Vision

The Saint Louis University Program in Physical Therapy will lead the profession, serve humanity and optimize movement through transformative research, education, and clinical practice.

Mission

In the Jesuit traditions of the pursuit of truth, development of the whole person and commitment to service and justice, our transformative community of faculty, staff, and students provide reflective, person-centered care and education that is interprofessional and evidenced-based. Through scholarly and clinical endeavors, we add knowledge and insight to education and health care focused on optimizing movement.
