University Policy on End-of-

Survey Administration Period

The periods during which end-of-term course feedback surveys will be open for s most significantly influences higher responses rates – and earnest, meaningful, actionable student responses – is demonstrable evidence to students that data from course feedback surveys is regularly used to improve curriculum and pedagogy. Support for best evidencing to students the importance and use of this data is available via the Reinert Center.

University-Supported Technology
The Office of the Provost, supported by the Division of Information af1

End-of-Term Course Feedback Survey Data Access Table

Note: Those identified below may designate an administrative proxy with corresponding access.

6.0 Exceptions

Exceptions to this policy may be granted by the Provost upon request by a dean.

7.0 Approvals

This policy was:

1. Reviewed by CADD on: 9/17/16 and 5/24/17

2. Adopted by Provost Nancy Brickhouse on: 6/1/17

3. Amended by Provost Nancy Brickhouse on: 5/16/18
    o to codify the practice -- established in Fall 2017 by the Provost and implemented by the University Registrar --